

Zaar Consultants

Are you shipping profits out the door?

How late shipments translate to lost dollars.

If your shipment is even one minute late, you are eligible for a refund. Carriers like DHL, FedEx and UPS offer a money-back guarantee for late shipments, but hope you never cash in on it.

The reality is most refund-eligible shipments are still paid for by the customer. That's why Zaar Consultants exists. To ensure the maximum amount of refunds are returned to you. On average, you will see shipping invoices lowered by 3-5% each week.

Get the refunds you deserve

Zaar Consultants eliminates the guesswork, using an industry-leading auditing process that works quickly to find the shipments eligible for refund. No refund will be missed as a comprehensive audit is performed on every shipment checking for late delivery, surcharges, double billing and more. Dollars are returned back to your business daily. The best part? There are no ongoing fees or onboarding costs. Only a split of the savings.
